

Save The Polar Bears!

A lot of people may already know this, but the polar bears are in danger. The reason they are in danger is because, well mainly us. All the pollution we make is melting the ice caps. But we can fix what we messed up, so here are some ways you can help save the polar bears.

One way to help save the polar bears is to walk or ride a bike. You can walk or bike to school, the park, and even to work. Cars pollute the air with gas, so not driving one helps the air a lot. Or if you don't want to walk or ride a bike, you can take the bus. Riding the bus helps the polar bears because the bus carries way more people so it reduces all the people driving their own car. Which reduces the amount of pollution coming from gases.

Another way to help the bears is to eat healthier. It is surprising but yes this does actually help stop global warming. You could eat locally grown food from small-scale farms. It seems crazy but small farms don't pollute the air. You can also consume less packaged foods such as potato chips. They make these bags in huge factories that pollute the air that is melting the ice caps.

These are only a few of the ways you can help save these majestic and beautiful creatures.